MEDIA RELEASE

RE-OPEN OF ONSEEPKANS, RIETFONTAIN AND SENDELINGSDRIFT BORDER POSTS

Namibia and South Africa have re-opened the Onseepkans, Rietfontain and Sendelingsdrift border posts, as of 10 July 2022. However, the Sendelingsdrift port is not ready for immediate re-opening due to the water levels of the river.

The border posts have been closed since 2020 due to the Covid-19 pandemic, resulting in reduced trade and significant socio-economic hardship in both countries.

The opening of the borders is guided by the relaxation of health protocols governing the management of Covid-19 in South Africa.

Travelers are urged to respect the regulations and laws applicable in the respective countries as well as to continue to observe the Covid-19 protocols.
