

Say it with flowers!

Peace for the Elephants

February 14th, 2014. Valentines Day
Say it with your heart!

Every 15 minutes an elephant is being killed.

We are a global community, it is our responsibility to care for all creatures on this beautiful plant.

The senseless killing of the elephants and of many Rangers who try to protect them is purely so that their tusks may be carved and used as a decorative status symbol .

This ideology is archaic and has no place in our world today.
Why not own a Ferrari instead!

Let us join together,
in a world-wide event

with white flowers for the elephants .

What ever you are moved to do:-
Place a white flower in your lapel

A bunch of white flowers in your home or office,
Put flowers out on the street or park and tell everyone what you are doing.

Take white flowers to the Chinese embassy.

Whatever your action, do it in a peaceful way with your heart.

Peace is possible if we wish it to be .
Their life is in our hands..
